General Information

The story of the Oregon Trail and the Travelers on it is amazing, heart breaking and hard to imagine. Making the connection and gaining appreciation of our foremothers and fathers and what they have started for us is our hope for learning “HERstory in History” symposium.

Pre and Post Tours

The Symposium is comprised of pre-symposium tours that include a Barlow Road Tour, Columbia River Gorge Bus Tour, Oregon City Spirit Night Walks and House Museum Tours.

Presentations

The Symposium presentations include nationally recognized, experienced and knowledgeable individuals.

Jane Kirkpatrick, best selling, award winning author and our key note speaker, is presenting on Tabitha Brown, considered the “Mother of Oregon” and Abigail Scott Duniway, her early life, in her later life, is credited for winning the right for women to vote.

Wendell Baskins, recognized Barlow Road expert and tour guide appointed to the Oregon Historic Trails Advisory Council will speak on the “Oregon Trail, and the Long Road to Eden”.

Elizabeth Stewart Clark, owner and teacher of the Sewing Academy and historian of the woman’s life in the Territory will present on “Educating Oregon” and the struggles that came with the new life.

Gwen Carr, officer and public speaker with the Oregon Black Women Pioneers, will present on “Black Women in Oregon?”.

Elizabeth Korsmo & Victoria Pann, Living History presenters at fort Nisqually, will share the session on “Trail Clothing”. Elizabeth will present on Bloomers and Victoria will present on Bonnets.

Jenna Barganski, Museum Manager of the Clackamas County Historical Museum will present “Giving the Noose the Slip: Analysis of Female Murderers in Oregon, 1854-1900”.

Marge Harding, Clackamas County Historical Society Heritage Consultant, using original Mourning dresses and artifacts, will present on Life and Death in the Oregon Territory.

Mary Bywater Cross, author of “Treasures in the Trunk” will talk about pioneer women and their quilts of the Oregon Trail.

Plus, other important personalities will be presented and portrayed by guest speakers on such topics of “Murderesses, Massacres, Mourning and a Memorial”, helping create a full picture of the life and times of the Oregon Trail.

Lodging

A special lodging rate will be available at $116.99 plus tax per night at the Best Western Plus Rivershore Hotel, 1900 Clackamas Dr., Oregon City, Oregon (1-800-443-7777).
